Investment objective

The Fund is designed to offer capital appreciation over the longer term through investment primarily in a basket of international equity markets and currencies. The Fund is ideally suited to investors with a high risk tolerance with an investment horizon of 7 years or longer. The Fund intends to achieve its investment objective through a diversified global portfolio primarily consisting of investments in participatory interests of portfolios of collective investment schemes or other similar schemes.

Fund performance

Cumulative returns

Source: Morningstar, Lipper Hindsight, Northern Trust International Fund Administration Services (Guernsey) Limited. Past performance is not indicative of future returns.

The fund performance is calculated on a total return basis, net of all fees and in US dollar terms. NAV to NAV figures have been used for the performance calculations. The performance is calculated for the Fund. The individual investor performance may differ, as a result of various factors, including the actual investment date. Investment performance calculations are available for verification upon request. Annualised returns are period returns re-scaled to a period of 1 year. This allows investors to compare returns of different assets that they have owned for different lengths of time. Actual annual figures are available to investors upon request.

¹ Please refer to the fund supplement and scheme particulars for a detailed description of fees and fund facts.

² Global Cash is expressed in USD and is composed of 50% ICE LIBOR 3M USD; 25% ICE LIBOR 3M EUR; 10% ICE LIBOR 3M GBP; 15% ICE LIBOR 3M JPY. Prior to April 2019 the performance of the fund on this document was compared against a benchmark which comprised 100% MSCI AC World.

³ The Total Expense Ratios (TERs) are the percentages of the net asset value of the class of the Financial Product incurred as expenses relating to the administration of the Financial Product. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. A current TER may not necessarily be an accurate indication of future TERs. The TER to 29 March 2019 is based on data for the period from 30 March 2018 to 29 March 2019 and the financial year-end TER is based on data for the financial year-end to 29 June 2018. Cost ratios are calculated using historical actual and/or estimated data and are provided solely as an indication/guide as to the annual expenses/costs that could be incurred. These ratios do not represent any current/actual charges or fees.

⁶ Current asset allocation figures reflect the strategy classification of the collective investment schemes (or similar schemes) held by the Fund and do not look through to the underlying holdings of such schemes.

■ Market commentary

Following the strong performance of global equity markets through the first four months of the year, the tide changed dramatically in May with the trade war dominating the market narrative. There was a sharp shift out of risk assets, notably equities, and towards perceived safe havens, reflected in a rise of 2.9% in the Japanese yen against the US dollar and gains of 1.7% for gold. Developed equities declined 5.8% and, unsurprisingly in an environment of rising fears about global trade and growth, emerging markets weakened even more, down 7.3%.

The sudden announcement that the US would be moving ahead with tariff increases on US imports from China, and the threat to apply 5% tariffs on goods from Mexico, unnerved investors. US equities were significantly weaker, ending the month down 6.4%. UK equities declined 2.8% in sterling terms, but the pound fell sharply amid renewed Brexit uncertainty following the announcement of Prime Minister May's resignation. Elsewhere in Europe, the unfolding battle between Italy's populist government and the EU Commission came back into focus.

Bond markets were the main beneficiaries during May, with 10-year Treasury yields falling by 38 basis points while German 10-year yields fell to a new all-time low of -0.20%. This resulted in a return of 2.5% for US Treasuries. As recessionary fears surfaced credit spreads widened and investment grade bonds underperformed government bonds, returning 1.4% while high yield bonds suffered negative returns.

To say we are living through extraordinary times is beyond dispute. The current economic expansion in the US is soon set to become the longest in history, employment growth in the US and elsewhere has been very strong, monetary policy across the developed world remains ultra-loose by any historical standard and yet inflation is still remarkably subdued. Indeed, recent falls in core inflation measures especially in the US have rattled investors and raised fears of weaker growth and tougher conditions for the corporate sector ahead, and in Europe and Japan of prolonged deflation. The escalation of the US-China trade war to much broader issues than trade alone, and beyond China to the closest allies and trading partners of the US, poses a serious threat to global stability and the global economy. Some caution is therefore warranted in the short term, but we take the view that the cycle has further to run and if falls in markets continue interesting valuation opportunities will arise.

■ Risk warnings and important notes

Collective investments are generally medium to long-term investments. The value of units may go down as well as up and past performance is not necessarily a guide to the future.

Collective investments are traded at ruling prices. Commission and incentives may be paid and, if so, would be included in the overall costs. All performance is calculated on a total return basis, after deduction of all fees and commissions and in US dollar terms. Forward pricing is used.

The Fund invests in other collective investments, which levy their own charges. This could result in a higher fee structure for the Fund.

Fluctuations in the value of the underlying funds, the income from them and changes in interest rates mean that the value of the Fund and any income arising from it may fall, as well as rise, and is not guaranteed.

Deductions of charges and expenses mean that you may not get back the amount you invested.

The fees charged within the Fund and by the managers of the underlying funds are not guaranteed and may change in the future.

Higher risk investments may be subject to sudden and larger falls in value in comparison to other investments. Higher risk investments include, but are not limited to, investments in smaller companies, even in developed markets, investments in emerging markets or single country debt or equity funds and investments in high yield or non-investment grade debt.

Notwithstanding ongoing monitoring of the underlying funds within the Fund, there can be no assurance that the performance of the funds will achieve their stated objectives.

The Fund will contain shares or units in underlying funds that invest internationally. The value of an investor's investment and the income arising from it will therefore be subject to exchange rate fluctuations.

Foreign securities may have additional material risks, depending on the specific risks affecting that country, such as: potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds; macroeconomic risks; political risks; foreign exchange risks; tax risks; settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information.

The Fund may contain shares or units in underlying funds that do not permit dealing every day. Investments in such funds will only be realisable on their dealing days. It is not possible to assess the proper market price of these investments other than on the fund's dealing days.

No borrowing will be undertaken by the Fund except for the purpose of meeting short term liquidity requirements. Borrowings will not exceed 10% of the net asset value of the Fund. For such purpose, the securities of the Fund may be pledged. No scrip borrowing will be allowed. The Cell is not permitted to enter into any form of borrowing or loan arrangement with other cells of the Company nor other collective investment schemes of the Manager.

While derivative instruments may be used for hedging purposes, the risk remains that the relevant instrument may not necessarily fully correlate to the investments in the Fund and accordingly not fully reflect changes in the value of the investment, giving rise to potential net losses.

Forward contracts are neither traded on exchanges nor standardised. Principals dealing in these markets are also not required to make markets in the currencies they trade, with the result that these markets may experience periods of illiquidity. Banks and dealers will normally act as principals and usually each transaction is negotiated on an individual basis.

The Manager has the right to close the Fund to new investors, in order to manage it more efficiently, in accordance with its mandate.

Investment in the Fund may not be suitable for all investors. Investors should obtain advice from their financial adviser before proceeding with an investment.

Investors are reminded that any forecasts and/or commentary included in this MDD are not guaranteed to occur, and merely reflect the interpretation of the public information and propriety research available to the Investment Manager at a particular point in time.
